Saving and improving young lives, with your help!

Children should not die from treatable and manageable conditions. They deserve to have access to medical care regardless of the financial situation of their families.

Help Journal assists young people with cancer, cystic fibrosis, and other chronic illnesses who live in Russia and Ukraine and cannot afford necessary medications, diagnostic and treatment procedures.

Please, join us in helping them!

- ✓ Donate by credit card, check or PayPal
- ✓ Volunteer with us
- ✓ Organize a fundraising event
- ✓ Spread the word: follow us on Twitter and Facebook, download our flyers (www.helpjournal.org/flyers) and post them in your neighbourhood store, school, place of worship or community center.

Who needs your help today?

Serezha from Ukraine has cystic fibrosis. To live a long and healthy life, he needs enzymes, nebulized antibiotics, and other medications but the annual cost of his treatment is higher than the average salary in Ukraine. Please, help us raise money for the medications and medical equipment for this little boy and others like him need!

Help Journal is registered in the US as a non-profit 501(c) organization. It's run by volunteers and 100% of money raised goes to help patients. All donations are tax deductible for the US tax payers.
